One day, as I wandered, I heard a complaining,
And of a poor woman, the picture of gloom;
She glared at the mud on her door-step, (I was raining.)
And this was her wall, as she wielded her broom.
"Oh! life is a toil, and love is a trouble,
And beauty will fade and riches will flee,
And pleasures they dwindle and prices they double,
And nothing is what I could wish it to be.
There's too much of worryment goes to a bonnet;
There's too much of ironing goes to a shirt!
There's nothing that pays for the time you waste
on it;
There's nothing that lasts but trouble and dirt.

In March it is mud; it is slush in December;
The midsummer forenoon is loaded with dust;
In June we leave litter; in August September
The wall-paper rots and the candlesticks rust.

There are worms in the cherries, and slugs in the roses
And ants in the sugar and mice in the pie;
The rubbish of spiders no mortal supposes,
And ravaging roaches, and damaging flies,

It's sweeping at six, and it's dusting at seven;
It's victuals at eight, and it's dishes at nine;
It's potting and panning from ten to eleven;
We scarce break our fast ere we plan how to dine.

With grease and with grime, from corner to center,
Forever at war, and forever alert,
No rest for a day, no enemy of center,
I spend my whole life in a struggle with dirt.

That night, in my dream, I was stationed forever
On a little hero Isle in the midst of the sea;
My one chance of life, with a celestial savior,
To sweep off the waves ere they swept over me.

Alas! 'twas no dream—again I behold it!
I yielded; I am helpless my fate to avert—
She roiled down her nieces, her apron she folded;
Then lay down and died, and was buried in dirt.
—Byrard Taylor.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

EDITORIAL NOTICES are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying what we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcohol nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Bilioousness, Constipation and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as a general invigorant regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal. It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California,) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the conclusion that it is a compound of agents hitherto unknown. If popularity is any criterion, there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the VINEGAR BITTERS, for the sale of the article is immense and continually increasing. april-4wt inventing the name at their expense. However, in April, 1870, Mr. Edgar Joyce rapidly wasted away, with every symptom of quick consumption, so that he was unable to walk across the room, having no appetite, pains in the left side, nervous system unstrung, dry, hacking cough, &c. Fortunately I learned that your Syrup could be obtained at Mr. Dearn's, in St. John's, and immediately procured some (showed one to W. H. Thompson, who ordered a supply from you at once.) This was Tuesday afternoon; at night he took the prescribed dose, and in the morning he described the very results notified on the wrapper. His appetite soon began to return, and a voracious one it was; too; the dry, hacking cough changed into loud but violent attacks, finally disappearing altogether; pains left his side, his hand assumed its usual steadiness, and before he finished ten bottles his health was quite restored, and to-day not a more healthy person is to be found on our streets; it is the opinion of all, had he not been fortunate in getting your valuable Syrup of Hypophosphites, he would now be in his grave.

He happened to be in W. H. Thompson's the day your first shipment arrived, and took at once four bottles to the Labrador, which he was very anxious to do, before he left.

I also recommended it to another consumptive, but have not heard from him since, as he lives in a distant part of the Island. Hoping this will give you some encouragement,

I HAVE used Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites freely in my practice, both in diseases of the Chest, as Consumption and Bronchitis, &c., and in infantile diseases of the prima vie, or Stomach and Bowels, with eminent success, considering it superior to any similar preparation yet offered to the public.
